SUBJECT

Reconstitution of Town and Minor Municipal Councils under the new Municipal Regulations

the municipal councils Nor is it desirable to abnormally raise the trength of the municipal councils merely for the purpose of increasing the elected strength immediately for example - the present strength of the Channapatna municipal Council is 20 If this should be raised according to the new Bill the strength will be at least 36 because there are now 7 non-official nominated members and 3 Ex-officio members If the Amildar who is now a nominated municipal councillor should be excluded, the strength of the nominated non-official and the official element would be 9 and according to the minimum prescribed for the Town Municipal Council the strength of the elected members should be 27. In these circumstances the elected element may be strengthened in accordance with the new Regulations only after the existing terms expire Even then, there is nothing to prevent Government from fixing the total strength of a municipal council within manageable limits for example the strength of the Channapatna municipal Council may be then fixed as follows -

Total strength	20
Elected	15
Nominated non-officials	3
Nominated officials	2
	20

N B - The Amildar will be the nominated President and one additional member

3 For the reconstitution of municipal municipal councils after their present terms expire, no uniform and definite policy has been suggested by the Deputy Commissioners Any increase in the strength of nominated and ex-officio members will entail the number of elected members ~~to be~~ being proportionately doubled in the case of minor municipalities and trebled in the case of town municipalities In order to keep down the strength of the municipal councils as far as possible, the Deputy Commissioner of Bangalore suggests that seats may be reserved for a Medical Officer if any, in the station, the Amildar or other official President and for the Public Works Department Officer of the Taluk in the case of town municipal councils If the Amildar or the Sub Division Officer or other revenue officer, as the case may be, who has to be ex-officio president, is treated as an additional member of the municipal council, the strength can further be reduced In the case of minor municipalities which are not taluk head quarters the Deputy Commissioner of Bangalore does not consider it desirable to have the Public Works Officer on the municipal council It would however, be desirable to have these officers also on the minor municipal councils The Sub-Registrar and the Education Officer wherever they are on the municipal councils may be removed

4 After orders are passed on the above proposals the details of constit

constitution in respect of each municipal council will be worked up and submitted for orders separately

Next question the letters can the Emty CS entertain even after the new Regns become law (without their Emty powers) under Sec 33, inspite of the expiry of the powers, provided they were constituted legal primo on meeting point may be vested—

13 Assuming that the answer to above question is in the affirmative, the last concern is whether Emty CS to work out their powers otherwise it would become necessary to restore in case the Regns of the Councils

I think moves into my Legal Asstt by 15, which will pass worn for the Asst, Medical Officer & 3 the nominated members Town Mun CS my have a strength of about 20, Excluding the President when an appeal has been pass worn for the Medical Officer & 3 other nominated non official members—

17 Under section 2 of the City, Town and minor Municipalities Regulations of 1933, all city, town and minor municipalities constituted under the Municipal Regulation of 1906 are deemed to have been respectively constituted under the new Regulations As soon as a municipality is so constituted, then section 8 of both the City and Town Municipalities Regs and sec 6 (1) of the Minor Municipalities Regulation, brings into being a corporate body by the name of the "Municipal Council" The corporate body by the same name which had similarly come into existence under the Regulation of 1906, ceases to exist with the repeal of that Regulation, and it is a new Corporation that takes its place under the new Regulations -

18 Again Since under sec 2 of the new Regulations, the municipal Councillors appointed or elected under the old are deemed to have been appointed and elected under the new, they the existing Councillors automatically become the members of the new Corporate body -

19 The only question therefore is whether the new corporation can function under the Regulations of 1933, though the proportion of its elected & nonelected elements are not in conformity with the provisions of the new Regulations I think though not without hesitation that the answer to this must be in the affirmative A defect in the appointment of members or the non-appointment of the requisite number of members does not make the Municipal Council an invalidly constituted Corporation If a member is appointed by nomination instead of being elected, it is a defect in the election or appointment of the Councillor concerned and this is cured by the provisions of sec 39 of the City Municipality Regulation the Corresponding Sections of the other two Regulations. Such a defect does not in any way render the Constitution of the Corporate body invalid

NOTE—Contn Sheet

because as observed in A I R 1923 Mad 360, it is not the appointment of members that constitutes the corporation The corporation is created by the statute and the notification declaring a local area to be a Municipality. In the Madras case, it was held that the Constitution of a local Board could not be said to be invalid merely because every seat was not filled at its first Constitution

20. Moreover, under the saving clause of the new Regulations viz section 2, The repeal of the M[adras] Regn of 1906, does not affect the validity or invalidity of anything already done under the repealed enactment The appointment or election of Municipal Councillors made already cannot therefore be rendered defective and they therefore continue to form the elements of the new Corporate body irrespective of the provisions relating to the proportion between the elected & the nominated element If this were not so, much of Cl(6) of section 2 would be meaningless

21 The question being one of importance and not altogether free from doubt, this is forwarded with compliments to the Govt Advocate for favour of his opinion in the matter

22 The question has become complicated as in section 2 the expression 'municipal Council' does not find a place This section is a copy of section 2 of the old Regulation and of the Bombay Act In the latter Act the Expression 'Municipal Council' does not find a place, the word 'municipality' being employed in that sense

23 Section 2, however is meant to meet the requirements of the new Regulation until the Councils are properly constituted there under ~~the new Regulation~~ The elections and nominations under the old Regulation are to be deemed so far as may be to have been made under the new one, as otherwise the Councillors would cease to be in office with the repeal of the old Regulation It must therefore be construed that they continue as Councillors so far as may be necessary under the new Regulation also, i e , until the Council is constituted under its provisions which introduce some important changes The elections could be held only after the necessary preliminaries are completed and that means time These present councillors are enabled to function by virtue of section 2 during this interval

24 The main difficulty is that as at present constituted the council cannot have the required number of elected members I think the wording of section 9 (4) of the City Municipalities Regulation and 9 (3) of the Town Municipalities Regulation must be strained a bit to get over this difficulty According to these sections the Government have the right of nomination to fill up vacancies due to failure to elect the full number of elected councillors

Since

31 MAY 1933
No 659 P26

NOTE—Contn Sheet

Since there has been such a failure in this case -- the causes of failure are not material it may be due to want of time and so on -- the Government could nominate the required number of members and the nominations deemed to have been made under this Regulation under section 2 should be construed to have been made also under section 9 and the council should be deemed to be properly constituted and competent to function until a general election is held under the Regulation I think it is necessary to arrange to have fresh elections as early as practicable

fna 25/8/33

34 Drafts I and II have been revised and are subd for consideration In the case of Minor Mc Councils, the draft is in the form of a GO, as Govt have already delegated the power of fixing the strength of the Council, appointing Councillors & the Dy Comrs under Sec 6 of the Minor Mcs Regn and that power has to be exercised by them in accordance with the instructions issued by Govt in this behalf

35 According to the two Drafts the Strength of the Town and Minor Muni Councils will be 20 and 15 respectively the elected and nominated portions being as follows —

Town Mcls		Minor Mcls
Elected	15	Elected	10
Ex Officio	2	Ex Officio	2 (including President when he is an Off)
Nominated non-Offs	3	Nominated non Offs	3

President will be an add Councillor

36 The Dy Comrs are told that the Strength as fixed above may be increased in particular cases if they consider that there should be a larger number of non Officials on any Municipal Council According to the proposals already called for & recd from the Dy Comrs,

Serial No

the only cases in which a larger number of non-Officials is recommended on the basis of three fourths of the elected element are —

	no of nominated Councillors	Total Strength
Davangere	4	24
Chikmagalur	4	32

Perhaps a further reference from the Dy Comr of Chitaldrug and Kadur if any, may be awaited before sanctioning the increased strength

37 There are a number of cases in which only two non Officials are recommended by the Dy Comr for the nominated portion, and the order now proposed fixing the number of non Officials at 3 gives no option to the Dy Comr to propose reduced strength in those cases Perhaps there is no intention to reduce the number fixed in the order

38 In the case of Minor Mc Councils the Ex Officio President is intended to be included in the total strength of the Council, but in the case of the Town Mc Council the President, whether an Official or non Official will be an additional Councillor if he is not already one The Draft put up do not mention who are to be the Presidents of the Councils The latter question may be considered separately and orders issued in regard to each case Except in the case of the Municipalities noted in the margin, which have non Official Presidents, the others have Official Presidents Whether the same arrangement is to continue and whether any more Municipalities ~~have~~ has to be to the point raised in para 29, as further ordered at para 43 of the notes supra

Jpm 2/9/33 (Mr Jeejeebhoy Dawdeall with Camps) Mm 2/9

48 Under sec 15 of both the City & Town Municipalities Regns and sec 12 of the Minor Mls Regn, the term of office of municipal councillors elected or nominated at a general election is generally three years. There is no provision under which this period can be extended, except in cases in which a particular councillor is disabled or removed from office under the penal provisions of the Regulation.

Put 1/

49 What the Govt Advocate however means is that since under sec 2 the Councillors appointed or elected and the municipal councils constituted under the old Regn are deemed to have been appointed or elected or duly constituted under the new Regn, but only so far as may be necessary, their appointment etc ceases as soon as it becomes practicable to reconstitute the Council under the new Regulation. (Vide para 23 Sup a) If this view is accepted, as soon as the necessaries preliminary to the holding of a general election under the new Regulations are complete, Govt may declare the holding of fresh elections with a view to reconstitute the Councils and thus terminate the existing Councils—

53 I have already expressed my view that it would be necessary to reconstitute the Municipal Councils as early as possible under the New Regulation Otherwise, the changes introduced by it, though declared to come into force from 1-8-1933, would practically be put off during the term of the existing councils Section 2 cannot, I think, be construed in that way It is only a transitory

GENL

transitory provision so that there might be some 'body' to function until it is properly constituted by elections etc under the new Regulation

54 The wording of section 2, viz , "that the Councillors shall be deemed to be elected under the new Regulation" shows that but for this transitory provision, they would automatically cease to be members of the Municipality on 1-8-1933 The same would be the case with the Council also which could not exist without its elected and nominated Councillors

55 If it can be contended that the term of the old Council cannot be curtailed, there would be no need for the transitory provision which the new Regulation contains Section 2 has to be construed I think, as giving validity to the existing state of things as far as may be necessary, i e until the provisions of the new Regulation are given effect to

I have the honour to enclose herein a copy of communication No 119/33-34, dated 30/31st July 1933 from the President, Municipal Council, Tarikere, in the matter of the present position of the Town Municipal Council, in view of the fact that the Mysore Town Municipalities Regulation No VIII of 1933 comes into operation over the whole State from 1st August 1933

As regards the point raised therein, it seems to me that, in view of what is stated in the saving clause section 3 clause (a), (b) and (c) of the New Regulation the present constitution of the Tarikere Municipal Council, which was brought into effect under the old repealed Regulation will have to continue until the present term of the Municipal Council expires on 30th June 1935 The number of nominated Municipal Councillors is not 8 as stated in the President, letter referred to above but 5 (vide Government Notification No L [illegible] dated 30-6-1933)

SIR

Adverting to Notification No L 1536/R I 111-33-1, dated 30th August 1933, stating that the strength of Town Municipal Councils shall, with effect from the date of their reconstitution, consist of 20 Councillors, and C O No L 1545-33 R I 111-33-2 dated 30th Aug 33, issuing instructions in the matter of fixing the strength of Minor Municipal Councils, I have the honor to state as follows -

The term of the Town Municipal Councils of Hassan and Holenarsipur and of the Minor Municipal Councils of Banavar and Konanur expires on 30th April 1936, 31st March 1935, 31st August 1934 and 31st January 1936, respectively It is stated in the Notification, dated 30th August 1933, referred to above, that the strength of the Town Municipal Councils shall consist of 20 Councillors with effect from the date of their reconstitution, while in the Notification relating to Minor Municipal Councils, the words "from the date of reconstitution" have not been used According to Sec 9 (2) of the Town Municipalities Regulation, the No of Elected Councillors in a Town Municipal Council should be not less than 4ths of the total strength, while according to Sec 6 (3) (b) of the Minor Municipalities Regulation, the No of Elected Councillors in a Minor Municipality should be not less than 2/3 rds of the total strength The four Municipal Councils referred to above having been constituted

under the Municipal Regulation of 1906, the strength of the Elected and Nominated Councillors does not conform to the provisions of Sec 9 (2) and Sec 6 (3) (b) of the Town and Minor Municipalities Regulation, respectively

But in view of the provisions contained in Sec 2 (b) of both the Regulations, I think that these 4 Municipal Councils will have to be considered as having been constituted under the New Regulations and that, in their case, Sec 9 (2) of the Town Municipal Regulation and Sec 6 (3) (b) of the Minor Municipal Regulation comes into operation only from the dates of their re-constitution and that therefore, the existing Councils will be deemed to have been duly constituted with all their sub-committees etc , and that they will exercise their powers etc , lawfully within their jurisdictions for the full term of their old constitution and that there is no need to take action to re-constitute them till then

I request you to be so good as to let me know whether the above interpretation is correct
